Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
RER Solutions, Inc.

Herndon, VA 20170

Dear Ms. Green:

Our Committees are examining the $500 million contract issued by the Small Business Administration (SBA) to process Emergency Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) applications during the coronavirus crisis. We are concerned by reports that millions of small businesses seeking emergency loans have faced long delays, poor service, and processing errors. As the Committees of jurisdiction, it is our duty to ensure that taxpayer money is being spent efficiently, effectively, and equitably.

At the onset of the coronavirus crisis, SBA faced an unprecedented number of EIDL applications from small businesses impacted by the pandemic. SBA reportedly “attempted to solve the problem by outsourcing much of its loan evaluation work to Rocket Loans” through a pre-existing contract with another company, RER Solutions.<sup>1</sup> On March 29, 2020, SBA’s Office of Disaster Assistance issued an emergency $50 million contract to RER Solutions for “data analysis and loan recommendation services for Covid-19.”<sup>2</sup> Since then, SBA has expanded the award amount to half a billion dollars.<sup>3</sup>

Your company, RER Solutions, is a minority-owned and women-owned business that participates in SBA’s 8(a) program for businesses owned by economically and socially disadvantaged individuals. According to Dun & Bradstreet, RER Solutions has 40 employees.<sup>4</sup> The $500 million contract awarded by SBA is more than 10 times the value of all federal contracts the company was awarded in Fiscal Year 2019. RER Solutions appears to have engaged Rocket Loans as a subcontractor on the contract. Rocket Loans is a subsidiary of Rock

Recent reports about the EIDL program raise questions about whether RER Solutions and Rocket Loans have provided adequate services to SBA and the millions of small businesses seeking EIDL funds. The EIDL program has reportedly been “hobbled by delays and confusion” that have left many applicants waiting for months for funds.<sup>6</sup> SBA has reportedly “struggled to keep up with a flood of more than 9 million applications, nearly 100 times what it had received in previous years.”<sup>7</sup> The program has been plagued by average wait times of 41 days to process loans, technical glitches that delayed disbursements to many small businesses, a lack of communication with applicants, and widespread reports that businesses have not received funds SBA claimed were disbursed.<sup>8</sup>

We are seeking to ensure that taxpayer dollars are being spent in the best interest of the American people and not diverted to fraud, waste, or abuse. To assist with this investigation, please produce by August 13, 2020, the following documents and information from January 1, 2020, to the present:

1. All documents relating to the solicitation, award, modification, or performance of the contract awarded by SBA to RER Solutions in March 2020 related to EIDL loans, including but not limited to:
  - a. all offer information, including proposals, quotes, unsolicited proposals, submitted by RER Solutions and/or Rocket Loans to SBA;
  - b. the contract between SBA and RER Solutions, including the statement of work, and all modifications;
  - c. any documents regarding the eligibility of RER Solutions for certification under SBA's 8(a) business development program;
